Important News of the Situation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — President
McKinley expects to receive the report of the naval board of inquiry next Thursday.

He is understood to know what the report will be.

He appreciates fully the feeling of the people and congress against any arbitration of the demand on Spain.

Congress is holding back for the president to formulate and make known his demand on Spain. This information from the White House is expected in a short time after the court of inquiry submits its report. President McKinley has been importuned by many to give Spain no longer than a week's time
in which to reply to the demand, so public opinion would hardly sustain him if 30 days were allowed.

The reports that the cabinet is divided in opinion as to what course should be followed in handling the Maine affair
have some foundation in fact, but these differences are not of a serious nature.
The cabinet officers hold to their individual views because the matter has not yet come up for conclusive action.
When that time does arrive they will be guided by the report of the court of inquiry, and no doubt they will be found strongly supporting the president.

Secretary Gage not only contemplates a bond issue, but the plates are being prepared in the bureau of engraving and printing. The engravers have been put to work, and now they are examining and preparing the plates.

Senator Hanna went to New York to advise with the financiers, and returned last night. He went immediately to the White House and held a long conference with the president. Today he conferred with Secretary Gage, and it will be determined how soon the bonds will be placed, and when a call shall be put forth for bids.

The amount of the bonds probably will be $250,000,000 in 4 per cents and gold bearing. Some of the members will oppose gold bonds.

Hanna denies the war loan report.
To strengthen his resources and increase his balance, Secretary Gage has ordered that treasury funds in national bank depositories be withdrawn. During the past few days these withdrawals
have been quite heavy.

There is now in the treasury nearly $168,000,000 in gold, a sum which makes the secretary and the administration feel comfortable, at the same time giving assurance of a substantial basis for war
if it should come.

For two days the navy department has been sending cipher dispatches to all stations along the coast and to the commanding officers of the North Atlantic,
South Atlantic, European and Asiatic fleets. Ships on these four stations will play important parts in the program if there is war with Spain.

Admiral Howell, lately on duty at Philadelphia, will have the responsible duty of commanding the American ships
in the vicinity of Spain.

The ships belonging to the South Atlantic station are all in the West Indies,
having been withdrawn from the remotely southern waters, where they usually cruise. This is one of the significant moves of the department, which has so disposed the ships as to make them virtually a part of the North Atlantic fleet and promptly accessible to the demands which may be made of them for work in Cuban waters.

The secret orders transmitted to the commanding officers of ships have to do mostly with the subject of stores and materials. The strategic instructions will be sent later. Each commanding officer has been made aware of the situation, and each has preliminary advice which will enable him to act

largely upon his own discretion, should there be sudden and unexpected conflict.

Congressman Bromwell, of Cincinnati,
when the naval appropriation bill is reported to the house, will offer an amendment giving authority to the secretary of the navy to purchase war vessels
wherever he may be able to get them.
The amendment will carry an appropriation of $10,000,000 or $15,000,000 for the purpose.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE.

Roosevelt Explains Warlike Activity—No
Mine in Havana Harbor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—At the suggestion of Secretary Long, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy department gave out the following statement
in regard to the published map with the mines in Havana harbor purporting to be marked on it:

"As soon as the map was brought to my attention, I sent to Mr. John Russel Young of the congressional library and got the original. It is simply one of the innumerable maps of Havana harbor. There is not the slightest sign of a mine marked anywhere on it. As a matter of fact, I am informed that this map is one which has been used in giving lectures at the Columbian university."

In answer to the question as to what was the meaning of the movements of guns and munitions, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"It merely serves to show that the department does not believe that there will be any trouble, but neither does it intend to be caught unprepared if there should be trouble."

LONG HAS NO INFORMATION.

Spanish Happy Over a Theory to End the Cuban War.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Secretary
Long states that the naval department
is in possession of no more information on the cause of the disaster than it was immediately after the occurrence and that no evidence had been received up to the present time showing that the disaster was caused by design.

Senor Du Bosc, the Spanish charge d'affaires, has received a cablegram
from the minister of state at Madrid, saying that the new minister to the United States, Senor Polo y Bernabe, will sail today from Gibraltar.

Press reports from Madrid stated that the authorities were jubilant over the receipt of important favorable information from Havana. Mr. Du Bosc could shed no light on the nature of this information.

In other quarters, however, the impression prevailed that this information
did not refer to the Maine inquiry, but concerned the general conduct of the insurrection in Cuba. There have been strong indications of late that the au-tonomist cabinet, under the leadership of Govin, who is the recognized force of that body, would endeavor to make terms with the separatist wing, and in turn secure the co-operation of the insurgents in a movement to conclude the war. How far this is possible is not known here, although it has been expected that Govin would succeed in effecting a reconciliation.

COURT AT KEY WEST.

Naval Inquirers as to the Maine Disaster
Resumed Sessions This Morning—A Diver Telling Stories—Sicard Ready to Move the Fleet.

KEY WEST, Feb. 28.—The naval court of inquiry resumed its sessions in the United States district court room in the federal building about 10 o'clock this morning and will probably return to Havana Wednesday. The members arrived here Sunday morning.

The most important witness to be examined here is Lieutenant Blandin, the officer of the deck when the explosion
on the Maine occurred. The testimony of the other survivors will take only a short time.

Martin Redding, a diver, has returned here. He was taken to Havana to work on the wreck, and his arrival caused much comment, it being said that he had talked too much at Havana and had been removed in consequence. On his arrival he held forth at considerable length before a street corner audience,
and but little credence could be given to
his numerous statements.

Rear Admiral Sicard has had frequent
conferences with Captain Sampson and
other members of the court of inquiry at
the hotel.

"I think they ought to get away on Wednesday. As yet there is nothing
that can be said about their work."

In reply to a question as to the re-
mored removal of the warships to Cuba,
Admiral Sicard said:

"The fleet is not moving and I know
nothing about it going to Cuba. Still,
you know, I have steam up and could go
anywhere if ordered."

He was asked if anything had happened to justify the statement that the situation was more serious than it had
been, and he replied:

"They know at Washington about
that. Just how strained our relations
are with Spain I am unable to say."

The excitement after the arrival of the Cuban filibusters headed by General
Canez and Captain John O'Brien completely eclipsed all the news and importance of the court of inquiry officers.
Their quick departure prevented very

much being learned as to the expedition,
but the Cubans here are elated. An expedition has been preparing to get away
from Key West for some time, but it
probably will suffer another delay, as
the plot has leaked out through two Spanish spies.

HURRYING WARSHIPS.

Vessels Being Gotten Ready For Duty at

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28. — League
Island navyyard literally swarmed with visitors Sunday, in consequence of the
report from Washington that the cruisers
Columbia and Minneapolis, the double
turreted monitor Miantonomah and the ram Katahdin had been ordered to go
into commission with dispatch. Both
cruisers have skeleton crews aboard,
while the monitor has been lying at her
dock for several years and the Kathadin
since last winter.

Naval officers at the yard would say
nothing relating to the movements of
the vessels. From some workmen it
was learned that the commission orders
had been issued. This was borne out
by the fact that all day a large force of
men in the construction and repair departments were actively at work on the Miantonomah and the Kahtadin. The Minneapolis and Columbia are about
ready.

Sunday work at League Island is very unusual, and yesterday's activity is
taken to indicate that the navy department intends to get the vessels ready for
sailing at a moment's notice.

He Heard the Pastor Commend His Course Toward Spain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Mc-Kinley attended service Sunday at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Hugh Johnston, the pastor, preached a sermon in which reference was made to the Maine disaster.
The president's course in the matter was
commended.

MISSIONARY VOLUNTEERS.

About 60 Decide to Labor to Save the Souls of the Heathen.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 28.—The convention of the student volunteers closed
last evening with a big rally at the Gray's armory. Nearly the entire day
was given up to meetings and intense
interest in the missionary cause was
aroused by the score or more of eloquent
speakers, who addressed the large
crowds that assembled.

At the mass meeting there was a big crowd. A number of interesting addresses were delivered. The speakers
were Gilbert A. Beaver, secretary of the executive committee of the International
Young Men's Christian association;
Rev. Dr. J. C. R. Ewing of India and
S. M. Playford of Boston. The delegates who expected to go to foreign
mission fields during the coming year
were asked to rise. About 60 stood up.
Most of them announced that they were going to China and others to India and
other countries.

ANGELO WILL CAPTURED.

Refusal of Mrs. Farando to Marry Him
Caused Crime.

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 28.—Angelo Will,
the Italian who attempted to exterminate the Farando family and shot four
persons near Coalsburg, was Saturday
captured at Meadville and safely landed
in jail there. It now turns out that
Will had proposed to Mrs. Farando,
whose husband had died less than a
year ago, and was rejected with an
order to leave the house and never return. Angered at this refusal, Will set out to murder the whole family.

Joseph Farando, the lad who was shot
in the groin, is low, and there is little
hope of his recovery. Phillips Farando,
a brother, was lying ill in the room
where Will did the shooting, and the
shock and excitement will probably prove fatal.

Caused Some Excitement in Smoky This Afternoon.

There was trouble in a Second street
saloon this afternoon.

A Church alley man had notified the
proprietor of the place not to sell his sister liquor, but he found her there this afternoon with a man. He promptly
picked up a chair, and there was war.
The combatants were separated. A number of arrests, it is said, will be
made.

Protested the Game.

The McDonald Football team defeated
the Jeannette club Saturday afternoon
in the final game of the cup tie series.
Jeannette protested, and the game will
be played over. The McDonald boys
have many supporters here.

New House.

Plans were completed this morning
Avondale street for D. H. Arthur. It
will cost about $2,500.

Suffered a Relapse.

J. F. Quick, of East Market street, who has been ill for some time, suffered a relapse yesterday. This morning he was not any better.

CAMPOS EXPECTS WAR.

Looked For It In 1898, if Rebellion Continued.

THIS ARCHBISHOP BELLIGERANT.

He Publishes a Pastoral Letter Attacking the United States and Asking Span-
iards to Unite For Defense—Military
Journal Predicts War In April.

MADRID, Feb. 28.—The cardinal archbishop of Valladolid has published a pastoral letter blaming America for the prolongation of the Cuban war. His
eminent says:

"The hypocritical friendship of the United States fosters the rebellion and
wastes Spain's resources in order the
better to attack her when weakened."

He exhorts all true Spaniards to
"unite in defending the rights and
honor of the nation."

The letter has caused widespread comment.

The Correspondencia Militar, organ of
the army, says:

"The prevailing impression is that
war between Spain and the United States will break out in April."

(presumably Marshal Martinez Campos),
interviewed by a representative of Correspondencia Militar, is reported as saying:

"I never entertained a doubt that if
the rebellion were not suppressed before 1898 war with the United States would
become an accomplished fact. Unhappily my prophecy will be fulfilled."

"I have the consolation of having
done all in my power to avert it, and
therefore I do not regret the blame
which has been heaped upon me. All that is now possible is that we should
all unite to meet the danger that

BLEW UP THE MAINE.

Letter Received In Key West Says Two
Divers Were Paid to Do It—Touched
Off Dynamite In Torpedo Holes—Denied by Naval Officer.

KEY WEST, Feb. 28.—The latest story
as to the way the Maine was blown up
is contained in a letter forwarded by a secret Cuban club in Havana to J. M.
Govin, a Cuban insurance agent here.
It was written in English, but was
signed "Maquista" (Machinist).

After a long preamble, saying that
the writer knew the Maine's fate was due to a Spanish plot, the letter goes on
to say that in an old warehouse at Santa Catalina, 200 yards from where the Maine was moored, some diving apparatus had been hidden, and that from
this base two divers had worked by
night and filled the torpedo holes of the Maine with dynamite cartridges, connecting them with wire to the battery
on the land, from which the cartridges
were exploded. According to the letter,
the divers were to have been paid a large sum, which has not been forthcoming.

The Cubans in Key West say that investigation in Havana has tended to
confirm the statements of the letter,
which will go before the court of inquiry. An officer of the Maine, whose attention was called to the story, asserted positively to this correspondent
that the torpedo holes of the Maine had
not been opened during her stay in the harbor.

SAGASTA SCORES BISMARCK.

The Suggestion of Arbitration Resented
by the Spanish Premier.

MADRID, Feb. 28.—Senor Sagasta,
commenting upon an alleged interview
with Prince Bismarck, in which the latter is represented as suggesting that
the Cuban trouble should be submitted
to the powers for arbitration, expressed
his astonishment that such an idea
could emanate from Prince Bismarck,
and declared emphatically that "nothing but ignorance of the question could
inspire the notion that Spain would
suffer foreign intrusion or submit to arbitration in her indisputable rights of sovereignty."

"Nobody," said the Spanish premier,
"would dare propose such an absurdity
and no Spanish government would listen
or dream of such proposal."

The Impartial in an editorial blames Spanish weakness, the Alianza Vena-
dita, Competitor and other affairs as encouraging the United States in "their present bellicose attitude." It counsels
the government to "awake to the reality of the situation, which the good
sense of the Spanish people understands
and is ready to meet."

Proctor's Visit Mystifies Spanish.

HAVANA, Feb. 28.—The Spaniards
know that Senator Proctor is a close friend of President McKinley, and,
despite his disclaimer of a political mission, they continue to attach considerable importance to his visit at this juncture. Some think that he has been

sent here by the president to make a report on the situation, as Mr. Blount
was sent to Hawaii by President Cleveland.

Successful Filibustering Trip.

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 28.—General Emi-
lie Nunez, Dr. Nunez, J. E. Cartaya,
John O'Brien and five members of the
last Cuban expedition have arrived
here on the Mascotte from Key West.
Speaking of the trip, Mr. Cartaya said
that it had been a very quick and successful one, leaving the states on the 13th and being the thirteenth successful
trip made by the boat, supposed to have been the Dauntless.

Spain's Warlike Preparations.

PERROT, Spain, Feb. 28.—The work
of naval construction and armament is
being pushed by the government with
the greatest activity at the arsenal and dockyard.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Secretary
Long has returned to work.

LA CHAMPAGNE SAVED.

A Shaft Broke—Vessel In Great Peril
For Many Days—Brave Sailors Who Sought Aid Rescued.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 28.—The overdue French steamer La Champagne has
been towed into Halifax by the steamer
Roman. There is great joy among the 300 odd passengers.

La Champagne sailed from Havre on
Feb. 12 with fine clear weather, which
continued for two days. Then the wind
freshened and a gale sprung up, blowing
with moderate force. All went well
until the 17th, when suddenly, about 4
o'clock, a tremendous crashing sound
was heard in the engine rooms. In an instant a panic seized the passengers.
Captain Poirot quickly calmed them,
and soon after it was discovered that the
tail screw shaft had broken. The steamer was running at high speed and
the engines flew around like lightning
when the resistance of the screw was
removed, and before they could be
stopped much damage was done in the
engine room and to the engines. The
damage was irreparable.

Nothing remained to be done but anchor. La Champagne was then in latitude 45.28, longitude 51.23, just in
the track of outward bound steamers.
The passengers and crew were hopeful
of being sighted by some passing
steamer, but a thick fog sprang up,
blighting their hopes. The steamer
kept up a continual fire of guns and
discharge of rockets, but no answer
came to their signals and on Friday the
captain dispatched a boat, containing eight men and third officer, either to
make land or sight a passing steamer.

That night a fierce gale rose and the
ship was tossed about like a feather.
About 4 o'clock Saturday morning the
anchor hawser parted with a snap and
the ship drifted southward, at the rate
of 50 miles a day, from Saturday morning, Feb. 18, until Wednesday, the 23d.

All through the long day the ship
steadily drifted and into the night until
midnight, when the welcome cry "sail
ahoy!" was heard. It reached from lookout to cabin and steerage, and every soul on that big ship rejoiced. Two steamers were sighted ten miles away.
One answered the distress signals.

She proved to be the Warren liner
Roman, bound from Liverpool for Boston. The Roman stood by La Champagne, and at once Captain Poirot went aboard and made arrangements with Captain Roberts to tow him to the nearest port, Halifax.

The first day the towing hawser parted
three times, but little delay resulted,
and a start was finally made at 1 o'clock
and this port was made without further trouble.

New York, Feb. 28.—The Holland
American line steamer Rotterdam, from Rotterdam, has arrived with Third
Officer George Unsworth and nine sea-
men of the overdue French liner La Champagne, who were picked up from
a lifeboat on Thursday, Feb. 24, in latitude 43.1 N., longitude 57 W.

The men, when taken aboard the Rotterdam, were in a helpless condition,
having been in the ship's lifeboat for
six days and nights. The men suffered
terribly from the effects of the weather
and were all more or less frost bitten.

They left the ship's side in the hope
of intercepting some passing steamer
and getting assistance for the disabled
steamer.

VESSEL BURNED AT SEA.

A Number of Lives Lost and Others Rescued and Landed at Boston.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—The British steamer
Legislator, Captain Tennant, bound
from Liverpool to Colon, was burned at sea Feb. 16. The fire broke out so suddenly that 11 men forward were cut off
from the rest of the ship, and, in saving
them, a boat was capsized and five men,
including the second and third officers,
the chief steward and the chief cook,
were drowned. A fireman received such severe burns that he died in a few minutes.

The remainder of the crew, 28 in all,
with two passengers, Dr. W. Mortimer
and wife of London, were rescued within 24 hours after the fire broke out by the fruit steamer Flower Gate and brought
to this port.

Terror at New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The monitor Terror has passed in at quarantine and anchored at Tompkinsville.

his numerous statements.

Rear Admiral Sicard has had frequent
other members of the court of inquiry at
the hotel.

"I think they ought to get away on

In reply to a question as to the removed removal of the warships to Cuba,
Admiral Sicard said:

"The fleet is not moving and I know
nothing about it going to Cuba. Still,
anywhere if ordered."

He was asked if anything had happened to justify the statement that the
situation was more serious than it had
been, and he replied:

"They know at Washington about

Cunneen and Captain John O'Brien completely eclipsed the court of inquiry officers.
Their quick departure prevented very

much being learned as to the expedition,
but the Cubans here are elated. An expedition has been preparing to get away
probably will suffer another delay, as
the plot has leaked out through two Spanish spies.

HURRYING WARSHIPS.

League Island.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28. — League
Island navyyard literally swarmed with
visitors Sunday, in consequence of the
report from Washington that the cruisers
Columbia and Minneapolis, the double
turreted monitor Miantonomah and the
ram Katahdin had been ordered to go
into commission with dispatch. Both
cruisers have skeleton crews aboard,
while the monitor has been lying at her
dock for several years and the Kathadin
since last winter.

nothing relating to the movements of
the vessels. From some workmen it
was learned that the commission orders
had been issued. This was borne out
men in the construction and repair de-
Minneapolis and Columbia are about
ready.

unusual, and yesterday's activity is
taken to indicate that the navy department intends to get the vessels ready for
sailing at a moment's notice.

Course Toward Spain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—President Mc-Kinley attended service Sunday at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Hugh Johnston, the pastor, preached a sermon in which refer-
The president's course in the matter was
commended.

MISSIONARY VOLUNTEERS.

About 60 Decide to Labor to Save the Souls of the Heathen.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 28.—The convention of the student volunteers closed
last evening with a big rally at the Gray's armory. Nearly the entire day
was given up to meetings and intense
speakers, who addressed the large
crowds that assembled.

At the massing there was a big crowd. A number of interesting addresses were delivered. The speakers
were Gilbert A. Beaver, secretary of the executive committee of the International
Rev. Dr. J. C. R. Ewing of India and
S. M. Playford of Boston. The delegates who expected to go to foreign
mission fields during the coming year
were asked to rise. About 60 stood up.
Most of them announced that they were going to China and others to India and

Caused Crime.

the Italian who attempted to exter-
minate the Farando family and shot four
captured at Meadville and safely landed
in jail there. It now turns out that
Will had proposed to Mrs. Farando,
whose husband had died less than a
year ago, and was rejected with an
order to leave the house and never return. Angered at this refusal, Will set
out to murder the whole family.

Joseph Farando, the lad who was shot
in the groin, is low, and there is little
hope of his recovery. Phillips Farando,
a brother, was lying ill in the room
shock and excitement will probably
prove fatal.

Caused Some Excitement In Smoky This Afternoon.

There was trouble in a Second street
saloon this afternoon.

sister liquor, but he found her there this
afternoon with a man. He promptly
The combatants were separated. A
made.

Protested the Game.

The McDonald Football team defeated the Jeannette club Saturday afternoon
in the final game of the cup tie series.
Jeannette protested, and the game will
have many supporters here.

New House.

Plans were completed this morning
will cost about $2,500.

Suffered a Relapse.

bellion Continued.

THIS ARCHBISHOP BELLIGERENT.

He Publishes a Pastoral Letter Attacking the United States and Asking Span-
Journal Predicts War In April.

MADRID, Feb. 28.—The cardinal archbishop of Valladolid has published a
pastoral letter blaming America for the
prolongation of the Cuban war. His
eminent says:

"The hypocritical friendship of the
wastes Spain's resources in order the
better to attack her when weakened."

He exhorts all true Spaniards to
honor of the nation."

ment.

The Correspondencia Militar, organ of
the army, says:

"The prevailing impression is that
war between Spain and the United States will break out in April."

(presumably Marshal Martinez Campos),
interviewed by a representative of Correspondencia Militar, is reported as
saying:

"I never entertained a doubt that if
the rebellion were not suppressed before 1898 war with the United States would
become an accomplished fact. Unhap-
pily my prophecy will be fulfilled."

"I have the consolation of having
therefore I do not regret the blame
which has now been heaped upon me. All that is now possible is that we should

BLEW UP THE MAINE.

Letter Received In Key West Says Two
Divers Were Paid to Do It—Touched
Off Dynamite In Torpedo Holes—Denied by Naval Officer.

KEY WEST, Feb. 28.—The latest story
as to the way the Maine was blown up
is contained in a letter forwarded by a
secret Cuban club in Havana to J. M.
Govin, a Cuban insurance agent here.
It was written in English, but was
signed "Maquista" (Machinist).

to say that in an old warehouse at Santa Catalina, 200 yards from where the Maine was moored, some diving appar-
atus had been hidden, and that from
night and filled the torpedo holes of the Maine with dynamite cartridges, connecting them with wire to the battery
on the land, from which the cartridges
were exploded. According to the letter,
the divers were to have been paid a
coming.

The Cubans in Key West say that investigation in Havana has tended to
confirm the statements of the letter,
which will go before the court of inquiry. An officer of the Maine, whose
serted positively to this correspondent
not been opened during her stay in the harbor.

SAGASTA SCORES BISMARCK.

The Suggestion of Arbitration Resented

MADRID, Feb. 28.—Senor Sagasta,
commenting upon an alleged interview
with Prince Bismarck, in which the
latter is represented as suggesting that
the Cuban trouble should be submitted
to the powers for arbitration, expressed
his astonishment that such an idea
could emanate from Prince Bismarck,
and declared emphatically that "nothing but ignorance of the question could
sovereignty."

"Nobody," said the Spanish premier,
"would dare propose such an absurdity
or dream of such proposal."

The Imparcial in an editorial blames Spanish weakness, the Alianza Vena-
dito, Competitor and other affairs as encouraging the United States in "their
the government to "awake to the re-
and is ready to meet."

HAVANA, Feb. 28.—The Spaniards
know that Senator Proctor is a close
friend of President McKinley, and,
despite his disclaimer of a political mission, they continue to attach consid-

report on the situation, as Mr. Blount
land.

lie Nunez, Dr. Nunez, J. E. Cartaya,
John O'Brien and five members of the
last Cuban expedition have arrived
here on the Mascotte from Key West.
Speaking of the trip, Mr. Cartaya said
that it had been a very quick and suc-
13th and being the thirteenth successful
trip made by the boat, supposed to have
been the Dauntless.

Spain's Warlike Preparations.

PERROT, Spain, Feb. 28.—The work
of naval construction and armament is
being pushed by the government with
the greatest activity at the arsenal and
dockyard.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. — Secretary
Long has returned to work.

LA CHAMPAGNE SAVED.

A Shaft Broke—Vessel In Great Peril

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 28.—The over-
due French steamer La Champagne has
been towed into Halifax by the steamer
300 odd passengers.

La Champagne sailed from Havre on
Feb. 12 with fine clear weather, which
continued for two days. Then the wind
freshened and a gale sprung up, blowing
with moderate force. All went well
until the 17th, when suddenly, about 4
o'clock, a tremendous crashing sound
instant a panic seized the passengers.
Captain Poirot quickly calmed them,
and soon after it was discovered that the
tail screw shaft had broken. The
the engines flew around like lightning
damage was irreparable.

Nothing remained to be done but
latitude 45.28, longitude 51.23, just in
the track of outward bound steamers.
The passengers and crew were hopeful
of being sighted by some passing
steamer, but a thick fog sprang up,
blighting their hopes. The steamer
kept up a continual fire of guns and
came to their signals and on Friday the
make land or sight a passing steamer.

ship was tossed about like a feather.
anchor hawser parted with a snap and
the ship drifted southward, at the rate
of 50 miles a day, from Saturday morning, Feb. 18, until Wednesday, the 23d.
All through the long day the ship
midnight, when the welcome cry "sail
lookout to cabin and steerage, and every
soul on that big ship rejoiced. Two
steamers were sighted ten miles away.
One answered the distress signals.

She proved to be the Warren liner
Roman, bound from Liverpool for Bos-
ton. The Roman stood by La Champagne, and at once Captain Poirot went
aboard and made arrangements with Captain Roberts to tow him to the
nearest port, Halifax.

The first day the towing hawser parted
three times, but little delay resulted,
and a start was finally made at 1 o'clock
and this port was made without further
trouble.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Holland
American line steamer Rotterdam, from
Rotterdam, has arrived with Third
Officer George Unsworth and nine sea-
men of the overdue French liner La Champagne, who were picked up from
a lifeboat on Thursday, Feb. 24, in lat-
tude 43.1 N., longitude 57 W.

The men, when taken aboard the Rot-
terdam, were in a helpless condition,
having been in the ship's lifeboat for
six days and nights. The men suffered
terribly from the effects of the weather

of intercepting some passing steamer
steamer.

VESSEL BURNED AT SEA.

A Number of Lives Lost and Others Res-

Legislator, Captain Tennant, bound
from Liverpool to Colon, was burned at
sea Feb. 16. The fire broke out so suddenly that 11 men forward were cut off
from the rest of the ship, and, in saving
them, a boat was capsized and five men,
including the second and third officers,
the chief steward and the chief cook,
were drowned. A fireman received such severe burns that he died in a few minutes.

The remainder of the crew, 28 in all,
with two passengers, Dr. W. Mortemer
and wife of London, were rescued within 24 hours after the fire broke out by the
fruit steamer Flower Gate and brought
to this port.

HURRYING TO ADJOURN

Congress Much Further Along Than Usual.

Friends of the Treaty Say They Will Hold Appropriation Bills Back In the Interest of Annexation—Enemies of the Measure Determined to Prevent Action.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—There are only five of the appropriation bills to be considered by the senate, which is a record far in advance of that usually made at this date in long sessions of congress. This fact is causing senators to talk about final adjournment at a far earlier date than usual.

Three of the bills which are as yet unconsidered are the District of Columbia, the naval and the sundry civil bills. These are all important measures and each is liable to arouse debate, but senators generally agree that unless there is some other reason for postponing adjournment it can be reached by May or June. The friends of the Hawaiian treaty say, however, that some of the appropriation bills will be held back until the question of annexation is decided and this determination is one of the circumstances which may cause the postponement of adjournment.

The house leaders have been straining all their energies to expedite the appropriation bills, with a view to an early final adjournment, and they are succeeding beyond their most sanguine expectations. Not in a quarter of a century have the appropriation bills been so far advanced in the long session as they are at this time. Only three of the 13 regular bills remain in committee. The other ten have gone through one or more legislative stages, and one—the military academy—is in the hands of the president awaiting his signature.

With the appropriation bill and the immigration bill, the consideration of which has been set for March 15, out of the way, nothing remains to prolong this session of congress, save the question of the annexation of Hawaii or war. The leaders of both sides looking ahead, eliminating both these subjects as probabilities or possibilities of delay, agree that the appropriation bills should be passed and that congress should be ready to adjourn early in May. If such a contingency as war should arise it would be necessary for congress to act both in the formal declaration of war and in furnishing ways and means for its prosecution. With regard to Hawaiian annexation, there is no doubt that if the present treaty is abandoned in the senate no move for annexation by legislative enactment will be initiated by the house.

The sentiment both among the friends and opponents of annexation in the house believe that after the long contest at the other end of the capitol the senate should retain jurisdiction of the subject. Action by the senate upon the resolution of annexation would therefore precede any action by the house, and it is this which gives color to the general impression in the house that action upon a resolution in the senate can be delayed until both houses have completed their other work, and that then an effort will be made to adjourn and leave the question suspended.

Speaker Reed makes no concealment of his personal opposition to annexation and several other very prominent Republicans like Cannon of Illinois, Walker of Massachusetts, Johnson of Indiana are outspoken. Some of the others, like Chairman Dingley of the ways and means committee, have made no public declarations upon the subject, but are believed to be in sympathy with the opponents of annexation. A large majority of the Republicans, however, are of course in favor of the administration's policy, many of them enthusiastically so. Chairman Hitt of the foreign affairs committee is placed among the supporters of annexation, but it is probable that the real brunt of the battle, if the contest is transferred to the house at this session, will be borne by General Grosvenor of Ohio and General Henderson of Iowa, both of whom are enthusiastic in their support of it.

As stated, the indications all point to a concerted plan on the part of the enemies of annexation at both ends of the capitol to hurry through the appropriation bills and adjourn before action can be had on the joint resolution in the senate. This, it is pointed out, would be the easier way to defeat or at least postpone action, as once the resolution got into the house, the divisions in the Republican ranks would be uncovered and the leaders would be forced on opposite sides.

Some of the Republicans who are opposed to annexation do not care to be forced into a position of public antagonism to the administration if it can be avoided. They would, of course, prefer to see the question postponed, rather than have it brought to an issue in the house. The Democrats, with comparatively few exceptions, are hostile to annexation.

MAY RESTORE 25,000 PENSIONERS.

Many Dropped Under Cleveland to Have Another Chance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Under a decision rendered by Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith, under the Cleveland administration, May 27, 1893, in the case of Charles T. Bennett, Mr. Lochren, the commissioner of pensions, organized a board of revision in the bureau of pensions for the purpose of taking from the files claims which had been allowed under the act of June 27, 1890, for a re-examination; as a result of that re-examination, says Assistant Secretary Webster Davis, pensioners were reduced or dropped in at least 25,000 cases. Upon a careful examination of the action then taken, Mr. Davis has issued an order relating to appeals pending before the department in such cases.

This order the department says will result in giving all soldiers effected by the Bennett decision a chance to be heard.

The department has decided that where soldiers were killed while hunting (the war department saying it improved their marksmanship) shall be subject for pension.

KING GEORGE NOW A HERO.

Attempt at Assassination Turns Public Opinion in His Favor.

ATHENS, Feb. 28.—There is a great patriotic outburst throughout the country over the escape of King George from assassination, with thanksgiving service everywhere and demonstrations of every kind.

There is no trace of the miscreants, though several arrests have been made with the object of obtaining information. The incapacity of the police is making a bad impression.

The king was returning from Phaleron in a landau, accompanied by the Princess Maria, when two men, who were hidden in a ditch alongside the road, opened fire with guns upon the occupants of the carriage.

The first shot missed, but the second wounded a footman in the arm. The coachman whipped up his horses, and the royal party dashed away at a gallop. The miscreants fired seven more shots, none of which took effect.

The king stood up before the princes to shield her from the shots.

NAVAL BILL HELD BACK.

Result of Maine Inquiry Will Decide Warship Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The naval bill is practically completed, being still held by the house committee, save for the provisions for drydocks and new ships. On both these propositions the developments of the next few days are expected to control the action of the committee.

If the board of inquiry into the Maine disaster should render a finding which portends strained relations with Spain the most liberal provisions will be made both for drydocks and ships. If the disaster was not due to accidental causes aboard ship it is almost certain that two new battleships will be provided for, one recommended by the secretary of the navy and one to replace the Maine, and that at least one of the new drydocks recommended will be authorized.

In case the Maine disaster is found to have been caused by accident it is probable no provision for battleships will be made in the new bill.

ROBBERS CAUGHT BANK PRESIDENT.

Took Him From Bed and Compelled Him to Open the Safe.

OMAHA, Feb. 28.—A report has been received from Bayard, a town in the interior of the state remote from telegraph service, that two masked men took A. O. Taylor, president of the Bank of Bayard, from bed and compelled him to open the safe in the bank. Only a small sum was secured. Taylor was severely beaten about the head. A posse is in pursuit of the robbers.

WAS NOT AN ACCIDENT

MAGAZINES WERE PROTECTED

Captain Sigsbee Knew Every Man on Board—Sergeant Pierpont, of the Marines, Was Not There When the Explosion Occurred.

J. M. McBane, of Sixth street, Saturday evening received a letter from Charles Pierpont, first sergeant of marines of the battle ship Maine. When the ship was destroyed McBane wrote to Pierpont's relatives in California asking if been killed with the others, and when the letter was received McBane was in a happy mood.

The letter states that about two months ago he was injured in the right arm by a piece of steel, and was off duty on a three month's leave of absence. His time was about up when the accident to the ship occurred. He immediately reported for duty, and the government has ordered him to report as first sergeant on the Massachusetts.

In speaking of the Maine and its mishap Pierpont says the ship could not have been destroyed by accident on board. Its magazines are walled by two inches of solid steel, and a thermometer inside denoted the temperature. When at a certain degree of heat a bell was set ringing by means of an electrical appliance, and continues to ring until a remedy is applied. The Maine was the strictest disciplined boat in the navy, and Captain Sigsbee knew well every man on board, and the condition of the ship.

The letter concludes in this manner: "I only hope that war will be declared as I am of the belief that the whipping of Spain would be only a small job to be done before breakfast, and California is now prepared to send over 50,000 to the scene of battle inside of two days."

It will be remembered that the day after the Maine was destroyed the News Review related Sergeant Pierpont's connection with the vessel and told of the anxiety of his friends in this city.

A STORMY MONTH.

Predictions For March Show a Great Many Disturbances.

Weather predictions for March show that the first regular snow storm period runs from the 1st to the 4th. Rain and snow storms will occur from the 2nd to 5th. Cold westerly winds will follow these storms. From about the 7th to 9th rain may be looked for. A rush of polar air from the northwest may be looked for from the 8th to 13th. Storm disturbances are booked to occur from the 11th to 15th. Unsettled and threatening weather from the 17th to 19th with a tendency to warmer. Change to colder may be expected after the 22nd, but reaction to warmer will occur from the 24th to 28th. From the 25th to 28th wild storms may develop. Warm days and possibly bright days will go before many of the worst storms of the month.

OFFERED THE TROOP.

Captain Harry Freese Is Ready For War.

Captain Harry Freese, who is well known in this city as the chief engineer of the Canton and East Liverpool railway, evidently does not believe that line will be built in the near future.

The friends of the Hawaiian treaty say, however, that some of the appropriation bills will be held back until the question of annexation is decided and this determination is one of the circumstances which may cause the postponement of adjournment.

The house leaders have been straining all their energies to expedite the appropriation bills, with a view to an early final adjournment, and they are succeeding beyond their most sanguine expectations. Not in a quarter of a century have the appropriation bills been so far advanced in the long session as they are at this time. Only three of the 13 regular bills remain in committee. The other ten have gone through one or more legislative stages, and one—the military academy—is in the hands of the president awaiting his signature.

With the appropriation bill and the immigration bill, the consideration of which has been set for March 15, out of the way, nothing remains to prolong this session of congress, save the question of the annexation of Hawaii or war. The leaders of both sides looking ahead, eliminating both these subjects as probabilities or possibilities of delay, agree that the appropriation bills should be passed and that congress should be ready to adjourn early in May. If such a contingency as war should arise it would be necessary for congress to act both in the formal declaration of war and in furnishing ways and means for its prosecution. With regard to Hawaiian annexation, there is no doubt that if the present treaty is abandoned by legislative enactment will be initiated by the house.

The sentiment both among the friends and opponents of annexation in the house believe that after the long contest at the other end of the capitol the senate should retain jurisdiction of the subject. Action by the senate upon the resolution of annexation would therefore precede any action by the house, and it is this which gives color to the general impression in the house that action upon a resolution in the senate can be delayed until both houses have completed their other work, and that then an effort will be made to adjourn and leave the question suspended.

Speaker Reed makes no concealment of his personal opposition to annexation and several other very prominent Republicans like Cannon of Illinois, Walker of Massachusetts, Johnson of Indiana are outspoken. Some of the others, like Chairman Dingley of the ways and means committee, have made no public declarations upon the subject, but are believed to be in sympathy with the opponents of annexation. A large majority of the Republicans, however, are of course in favor of the administration's policy, many of them enthusiastically so. Chairman Hitt of the foreign affairs committee is placed among the supporters of annexation, but it is probable that the real brunt of the battle, if the contest is transferred to the house at this session, will be borne by General Grosvenor of Ohio and General Henderson of Iowa, both of whom are enthusiastic in their support of it.

As stated, the indications all point to a concerted plan on the part of the enemies of annexation at both ends of the capitol to hurry through the appropriation bills and adjourn before action can be had on the joint resolution in the senate. This, it is pointed out, would be the easier way to defeat or at least postpone action, as once the resolution got into the house, the divisions in the Republican ranks would be uncovered and the leaders would be forced on opposite sides.

Some of the Republicans who are opposed to annexation do not care to be forced into a position of public antagonism to the administration if it can be avoided. They would, of course, prefer to see the question postponed, rather than have it brought to an issue in the house. The Democrats, with comparatively few exceptions, are hostile to annexation.

Many Dropped Under Cleveland to Have Another Chance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Under a decision rendered by Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith, under the Cleveland administration, May 27, 1893, in the case of Charles T. Bennett, Mr. Lochren, the commissioner of pensions, organized a board of revision in the bureau of pensions for the purpose of taking from the files claims which had been allowed under the act of June 27, 1890, for a re-examination; as a result of that re-examination, says Assistant Secretary Webster Davis, pensioners were reduced or dropped in at least 25,000 cases. Upon a careful examination of the action then taken, Mr. Davis has issued an order relating to appeals pending before the department in such cases.

This order the department says will result in giving all soldiers effected by the Bennett decision a chance to be heard.

The department has decided that where soldiers were killed while hunting (the war department saying it improved their marksmanship) shall be subject for pension.

KING GEORGE NOW A HERO.

ATHENS, Feb. 28.—There is a great patriotic outburst throughout the country over the escape of King George from assassination, with thanksgiving service everywhere and demonstrations of every kind.

There is no trace of the miscreants, though several arrests have been made with the object of obtaining information. The incapacity of the police is making a bad impression. The king was returning from Phalerum in a landau, accompanied by the Princess Maria, when two men, who were hidden in a ditch alongside the road, opened fire with guns upon the occupants of the carriage.

The first shot missed, but the second wounded a footman in the arm. The coachman whipped up his horses, and the royal party dashed away at a gallop. The miscreants fired seven more shots, none of which took effect.

The king stood up before the princes to shield her from the shots.

NAVAL BILL HELD BACK.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The naval bill is practically completed, being still held by the house committee, save for the provisions for drydocks and new ships. On both these propositions the developments of the next few days are expected to control the action of the committee.

If the board of inquiry into the Maine disaster should render a finding which portends strained relations with Spain the most liberal provisions will be made both for drydocks and ships. If the disaster was not due to accidental causes aboard ship it is almost certain that two new battleships will be provided for, one recommended by the secretary of the navy and one to replace the Maine, and that at least one of the new drydocks recommended will be authorized.

In case the Maine disaster is found to have been caused by accident it is probable no provision for battleships will be made in the new bill.

ROBBERS CAUGHT BANK PRESIDENT.

Took Him From Bed and Compelled Him to Open the Safe.

OMAHA, Feb. 28.—A report has been received from Bayard, a town in the interior of the state remote from telegraph service, that two masked men took A. O. Taylor, president of the Bank of Bayard, from bed and compelled him to open the safe in the bank. Only a small sum was secured. Taylor was severely beaten about the head. A posse is in pursuit of the robbers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Father Weber, whose recent declaration at Rondout that in case of war it would become the duty of the Roman Catholics to fight on the side of Spain, has been officially requested to leave the diocese. An alleged infernal machine was sent him.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 28.—The first positive orders received at the Portsmouth navyyard since the blowing up of the Maine were received when orders came to send the warship Alliance to sea on April 1. She will be put in first-class repair by that time.

William M. Slingerly Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—William M. Slingerly, editor of The Record and banker, who failed recently, has died of heart disease, due to excessive smoking. He was the Democratic nominee for governor against Hastings.

New Chinese Treaty Port.

PEKIN, Feb. 28.—The government has agreed to open Yuen Chan, on Lake Tung Ting, as a treaty port.

Artificial ice is made even in Juneau, Alaska, during the summer.

Captain Sigbee Knew Every Man on Board—Sergeant Pierpont, of the Marines, Was Not There When the Explosion Occurred.

J. M. McBane, of Sixth street, Saturday evening received a letter from Charles Pierpont, first sergeant of marines of the battle ship Maine. When the ship was destroyed McBane wrote to Pierpont's relatives in California asking if been killed with the others, and when the letter was received McBane was in a happy mood.

The letter states that about two months ago he was injured in the right arm by a piece of steel, and was off duty on a three month's leave of absence. His time was about up when the accident to the ship occurred. He immediately reported for duty, and the government has ordered him to report as first sergeant on the Massachusetts.

In speaking of the Maine and its mishap Pierpont says the ship could not have been destroyed by accident on board. Its magazines are walled by two inches of solid steel, and a thermometer inside denoted the temperature. When at a certain degree of heat a bell was set ringing by means of an electrical appliance, and continues to ring until a remedy is applied. The Maine was the strictest disciplined boat in the navy, and Captain Sigbee knew every man on board, and the condition of the ship.

The letter concludes in this manner: "I only hope that war will be declared as I am of the belief that the whipping of Spain would be only a small job to be done before breakfast, and California is now prepared to send over 50,000 to the scene of battle inside of two days."

It will be remembered that the day after the Maine was destroyed the News Review related Sergeant Pierpont's connection with the vessel and told of the anxiety of his friends in this city.

Captain Harry Freese Is Ready For War.

Captain Harry Freese, who is well known in this city as the chief engineer of the Canton and East Liverpool railway, evidently does not believe that line will be built in the near future.

The gentleman has written to Governor Bushnell, offering the services of the troop that did escort duty in Canton during the McKinley campaign and became widely known for its splendid appearance, should the state be called upon to furnish soldiers for the government.

Bishop Leonard Conducted Impressive Services.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH CROWDED

Scores of People Were Turned Away, Unable to Gain Admission—Sunday Services in Other Churches of the City Were Interesting.

Bishop Leonard conducted impressive services at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, last evening, the occasion being the confirmation of a class of 38 persons.

The church was crowded with people some time before the service began, and scores were turned away. The choir marched in procession from the parish house to the church, where the services were held. Excellent music was one of the features of the evening.

Bishop Leonard preached a powerful sermon, "Our Need of Christ" being the subject chosen. The gentleman pointed out clearly the need of every one for the help of the Savior. He returned to Cleveland this morning, but will be here soon after Easter to confirm another large class.

Reverend Weary invites all to attend the services at St. Stephen's, and particularly in the evening, when he endeavors to make his preaching undominational.

Methodist Protestant.

Splendid audiences assembled at the Methodist Protestant church on Sunday morning and evening. Reverend Swift took for his subject, for both sermons, Galatians 4-18. "But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing." The pastor stated that Paul evidently believed zeal to be a good thing in a good cause, intelligently applied to the object desired. Paul preached Jesus Christ and him crucified as the great central thought and fact about which all truths must assemble, and obtain therefrom power to act and win out great victories for the right. Zeal misapplied may be made a very bad feature, conducive of evil. The farmer's zeal in sowing, if he sows on the highways and byways and in the alleys, without due preparation of the earth, will result in a very poor harvest. You must love truth and her principles, for they are sacred. If God has entrusted great and sacred truths to your care, see to it that you use them with intelligent zeal. If you are happy, by and through God's infinite mercy, don't be selfish, but make it your aim in life to make others happy. See that your zeal is not misdirected. Don't put the knife in the hands of a blind man and entrust to him a delicate surgical operation, telling him to cut around the veins and arteries of an afflicted and beloved friend or relative, as dread results may follow, no matter how great the blind man's zeal. There may be work which the blind man can do, effectually and lovingly, and you can entrust him with that which he can safely perform. But when you want the surgeon's knife made use of, secure the services of him who is keen of eye, steady of hand and nerve, and ripe in knowledge, acquired through years of research and patient study of anatomy, backed by years of practice in his profession. My friends, you need not lack for knowledge. God has given you an open Bible, filled with knowledge. You can accept and acquire this knowledge, trust in the blessed Jesus, use intelligent zeal and be a blessing to the world at large. There's a time to sow and a time to reap. Do your work at the right time. Plant truth and right as the skillful farmer plants his seed; plant right and work right and you'll reap a harvest. It requires earnest zeal sometimes to rest quiet, as one great leader of men discovered when he received the command, "Stand still and see the glory of God."

Have knowledge with your zeal. Know your enemy who works against the right and the truth. Study the tactics of the enemy, and thus you will be able to meet and defeat him. "But it is good to be zealously affected ALWAYS in a good thing."

Three adults were baptised at the morning service, and 11 persons united with the church.

First U. P. Church.

Rev. Harry H. Crawford, of Beaver, who is assisting Doctor Taggart, of the First U. P. church in a two week's series of meetings, preached last evening on "John as a member of the inner circle, or friendship with Christ."

Mr. Crawford spoke of the great privilege of an intimate friendship with Jesus. First. The condition of such friendship. In John xv, 14 the Savior lays down the condition, "Ye are my friends if ye do whatsoever I command you." This condition is very simple and yet very full of meaning. It is not if ye hear, not if ye desire, but if ye do. A most comprehensive term, this word "whatsoever." It means the whole that, all that, anything that, no matter what. It does not grant the privilege of doing this and neglecting that, but it embraces every command directly given or indirectly implied. The condition is not a hard one if the heart is only willing. Obeying Christ is easier than serving Satan.

Second. The value of an intimate friendship with Christ. Few of us realize the value of even a human friendship. But of how much greater value is a friendship with Christ. This is what it will do for us:

Will broaden and deepen the life. How much John's life had been broadened from the time when his highest thought was concerning the casting of his fish net.

So lives are changed today. Friendship with Christ broadens many a horizon which has been very narrow, and puts purpose into lives that have been aimless.

These Trusses fitted by a physician, without extra charge, at HAMILTON'S DRUG STORE.

Again, such a friendship is valuable because thus we are never left without a true friend. The value is further seen from the fact that friendship with Christ on earth means friendship in heaven.

When the storms of life arrive and when at death the waves roar upon the bar, and all human friends must say farewell, and let our souls launch out upon a shoreless sea above, thus our divine friends will hide from all fear in the secret of his presence and in joy we can sing,—

"Yea though I walk through death's dark vale,
Yet will I fear no ill,
For thou art with me, and they rod
And staff me comfort still."

In the Churches.

Rev. T. V. Milligan occupied the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church, and preached to large congregations. In the morning he spoke of opinions, and in the evening of the work to be done in saving the lost. The reverend gentleman referred to the grave condition of affairs in connection with the Cuban matter, and prayed earnestly for God to guide President McKinley and his advisers in order that they may do that which is right.

Dr. J. C. Taggart went to Beaver on Saturday, and yesterday occupied the pulpit at the United Presbyterian church in that place.

Services at the Christian church were very interesting, the attendance being large and the sermons by Reverend Pike very good. Special services will continue during the week.

The Echo meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Young Men's Christian association was very well attended. Interesting addresses were made by the delegates who attended the state convention. They were Earnest Orr, Director Morris and Secretary Sully.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, FEB. 28.

The people of East Liverpool expect the Republican party to place in nomination for municipal offices only those men who can be relied upon to do their duty at all times and in all circumstances.

The people of this country have faith in William McKinley. No matter how great the demands of the moment they are certain he will do his duty. He has never been found wanting, and there is no reason to believe that he is developing new traits of character.

WADE HAMPTON has broken out against General Miles, and because that patriotic gentleman put Jeff Davis in chains, advises the people of the south to stay away from such a leader. Wade will likely learn in a few weeks that he is indeed a back number.

Compromise Expected.

As the time for pension day approaches the old soldiers are firm in their determination to only pay 10 cents to have the vouchers acknowledged. The squires are willing to do the work for this price, but will refuse to fill out the blanks, and it is probable a compromise will be effected.

The expenditure of a large amount of money by any municipality should only be decided upon after the people have given their permission, and that they cannot do until they have been fully informed as to the needs of the city. If East Liverpool is expected to vote council the permission to build a new reservoir and improve a number of roads, council should make the matter very plain before the election is called.

DURING the war excitement the friends of the immigration restriction measure seem to have forgotten its existence, and it is now no nearer disposition than it was a few weeks ago. Knowing as they do the necessity of such a measure, and realizing that the bill's only enemies are the steamship companies who profit by steerage travel, it is clearly the duty of these congressmen to do all they can to secure the enactment of the law without delay.

ANOTHER week of the legislature has commenced, and there are no indications that the members have decided to settle down to hard work. Last week was by no means a success. Bills were introduced almost without number and some important committee work was done, but there was no open expression that the members were willing to realize the importance of the position they occupy. As usual they spent the time without good result.

AVOIDING double leaded sensationalism the NEWS REVIEW has been giving its readers the real news as it came from Havana, Washington and Madrid. Nothing has been neglected that could be included in a carefully condensed report of the great mass of news matter collected by the Associated Press. Fact has been sifted from fiction, truth has been taken from rumor, and the people have been kept informed of events and not fancies.

NO TIME FOR WRANGLING.

If the Republicans of Ohio are earnest in their desire to win the election next November they must forget any differences arising from the late senatorial battle, and, working with a will, unite their forces against their political opponents. This course has been adopted in some quarters of the state, but in others the fight continues to rage. There should be no wrangling. It can result in nothing but a waste of time. What is done is done and cannot be undone. Let every Republican prepare to support the ticket.

CARDS AND THE DANCE

Gave Rev. W. H. Lowry the Subject For a Sermon

THAT IS BEING DISCUSSED

In All Parts of the Town Today—He Also Talked of Theater Going—Lot Sale Attracted a Big Crowd—Enthusiasm at the Fourteenth Street Mission.

Rev. H. W. Lowry delivered a sermon at the First Presbyterian church yesterday which is today the talk of the town. Although the gentlemen's opinion of cards and dancing could not be misunderstood his expressions were not in anger, but those of a teacher instructing his people.

As is well known Wellsville society has had an unusually gay season and afternoon and evening parties have been held almost without number. The matter has caused some comment among church people.

The reverend gentleman took as his subject, "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve," and spoke of the greater sins, chief among them being the saloon. Then he touched on what he styled private sins using card playing, dancing and theater going as examples. He admitted that Wellsville did not have many temptations in the theater line, but East Liverpool, only a short distance away and easily reached, was taking on metropolitan airs, while an hour and a half's ride would take those who desired it to Pittsburg.

Card playing he presented as the especial tool of the vicious. The bums and hobos who loafed about the brick yards and camped along the railroads played cards, and the same kind of cards were dealt out by fair and dainty hands for amusement.

Dancing came in for its share of condemnation, and was dealt with as evil. Rev. Mr. Lowry in explanation said that these things were legitimate for those who wanted to be known as the worldly, but they should never come into a Christian's life.

Enthusiastic Meetings.

The meetings at the Fourteenth street mission were well attended yesterday, and there were many demonstrations. Reverend McKee, of Pittsburg, preached at one service. The excitement for a time was intense, and people declared they would no longer wear linen collars and tore them off. It was one of the most remarkable meetings ever held in this place.

The News of Wellsville.

A number of friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Croft assembled at her home yesterday, in the East End, and partook of a royal repast, by way of celebrating the anniversary of the lady's birthday. Several couples were present from East Liverpool.

Wallace Fogo is the latest announced for the mayoralty, he being the fourth candidate. Wm. Pugh, M. H. Williamson and J. W. Riley are the other candidates, all subject to the Republican primaries to be held March 12.

There were two persons immersed at the Christian church last evening.

A difference of opinion exists in one of the church choirs of the city, and the matter has been exciting interest for several days. The organist seems to be the bone of contention.

A Note of Warning.

A number of the remedies commonly used for throat trouble have but little merit. The indiscriminate and careless use of some of them is attended with positive danger.

As a prominent example, Chlorate of Potash probably does a great deal more harm than good. Many people, when suffering from sore throat and like troubles, carry crystals or tablets of Chlorate of Potash in their pockets, and eat them almost like candy. Chlorate of Potash has a decided direct action on the kidneys and its unwise use in frequent and large doses irritates these organs and leads to really serious results, especially so in children.

Some may think this is sounding a false and needless alarm but as a single proof we wish to state that we have before us the November, 1894, copy of the Indiana Medical Journal, wherein are reported two deaths clearly due directly to this habit of using Chlorate of Potash with no regard to its powerful properties.

In the past there may have been some excuse for people trifling with dangerous and powerful drugs in the home treatment of Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy, as there was a lack of a valuable cure for these diseases. A remedy has recently been placed on sale specially for this class of troubles and it is meeting with a well-merited success, as every prudent mother wants such a remedy at hand. Its name is Tonsiline. It never fails. Your dealer has it in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The Athletic association will hold another meeting in the Foraker club rooms in city hall this evening to complete the plans of organization. At noon today over 135 men had signified their intention to become members. A large attendance is expected in the rooms tonight. Everybody invited.

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a business meeting and social this evening at the church.

All of the police force, who were summoned to Carrollton as witnesses in the horse stealing case, returned Saturday night.

The case of Judge Smith against Todd & King was continued until Saturday, March 5 at 1 o'clock before Justice McKenzie.

On Friday evening, March 4, Rev. J. S. Reager will deliver a lecture, subject, "What to Read and How to Read It," in the Methodist Episcopal church. No admission is charged and everyone cordially invited.

David McDonald, of Third street, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He was in his usual health at noon, and went walking. When near the trestle he complained of feeling ill, and returned home. In a short time he was dead. He and Mr. Hamilton, who died recently, were employed for years by the railroad company under Duncan McBane, who also died a short time ago. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be at Spring Hill.

The sale of lots attracted a large crowd to the West End today, and results were most satisfactory. Hot coffee and lunch were served to all who applied.

Interested in the Naval Militia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorman, of Steubenville, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor, of Sixth street. Mr. Dorman is a well known banker of Steubenville, and has done much for the naval militia of Ohio since its organization.

The little folks will all be at Tom Thumb's wedding on Tuesday night, March 1, at Association hall. You can get in for 10 cents.

Raising a Barge.

Edward Schneider this morning began work raising a sunken barge lying about 100 feet south of the wharfboat. The barge has been there for some months, and is somewhat damaged. It will be repaired.

Paper hung for 10c and 12½c at Kinsey's.

Robert Lacy Was Arrested Saturday Afternoon at the Instigation of Arabella Jones, and the Matter Went to Court—Was Heard in the Mayor's Office.

Saturday afternoon, before Squire Hill, a charge of a delicate nature was made by Arabella Jones against Robert Lacy.

Constable Lyon at once started out to find the young man, and he was arrested in East End where he is employed in a barber shop. The warrant was read to him twice before he seemed to comprehend the nature of the charge, but he made no resistance and was lodged in the city jail, where he spent Sunday.

The young man was taken from jail this morning before Squire Hill, who held court in city hall. The doors were closed to the public, and after a long conference an agreement was reached. The parties were opposed to a wedding ceremony, and it was decided that Lacy should pay the girl a given amount each week for a given time, and that he give bond for $200, in order that the child does not become a public charge.

OTHERS SEEN IN THE STREETS

The individuals were five young boys, not one of whom seemed to have gained his majority. They formed a disgusting scene as they staggered out of an alley, and stood in the street undecided as to the direction they would take. Then they went on their way, all drunk.

There were a number of other drunks in the streets. Two men, one of them with gray hair, walked with difficulty down Washington street, and another experienced some trouble in climbing the Broadway hill early in the afternoon. Late in the evening a man was going west in Sixth street accompanied by a woman. He was explaining to her that he was perfectly sober.

There is not much freight at the wharf boat to be sent south and business is now rather light.

THE TROUBLESOME DUST.

Why the Scientist Appreciates It More Than the Housewife.

The bane of the ideal housekeeper's life is dust, and yet this seemingly insignificant, exasperating dust has been a study of scientists for a century. "When a beam of sunlight enters a darkened room, it can be seen along its whole course," says one writer. "The light is reflected to every side and made to reach the eye by the dust in the air of the room. We do not see the sunbeam, but the dust which is illuminated by it. As unimportant as this curious stuff seems, it plays a conspicuous part in nature. It is what makes the sky appear blue, and when we look at the sky we see the dust illuminated by the sun. Light goes through all the gases—the dust catches it, reflects it in every direction, and so causes the whole atmosphere to appear clear, in the same way that it makes the sunbeam visible in the dark room.

"Without this strange, wonderful dust there would be no blue sky. It would be as dark or darker than on moonless nights. The glowing disk of the sun would stand immediately against the black background, thus producing blinding light where the sun's rays fall and deep black shadows where they do not. It is dust that we owe the moderately tempered daylight adapted to our eyes, and it is dust that contributes to the beauty of the scenery. The finest dust gives the blue tone to the sky, while the coarser kind produces an almost black appearance.

"The clouds consist of dust and vapor. If there be only a little dust, all the vapor is precipitated upon it, and so loads the clouds with water that they sink in heavy drops to the ground. Without dust the vapor would penetrate houses, making everything mold with damp. We should feel upon going out that our clothes were becoming saturated and umbrellas would be a useless protection. It is hard, indeed, to conceive how different everything would be if there were no dust. This trivial common stuff has its considerable part in the processes of nature, and there is much of the wonderful and mysterious concealed in its filmy particles."—Detroit Free Press.

An Eccentric Westerner Who Has Gained the Sobriquet.

The people around the little mountain town, says the Yakima (Wash.) Herald, called him "Old Comparison," and I knew in a general way why the sobriquet had been given him, but I did not, during my month's stay, have an opportunity to test it, though I had a speaking acquaintance with him. One day I was passing his house and he was sitting on the steps of the little vine clad porch in front.

"Good morning," I said. "It's a lovely day."
"Finer'n silk," he responded.
"How are you this morning?"
"Friskier'n a colt."
"How's your wife?"
"Pearter'n a pullet."
"The weather is very hot and dry for this season, don't you think?"
"Hotter'n a run horse and drier'n a clean shirt."
"I suppose you went to the wedding last night in the meeting house? A pretty bride, I thought."
"Partier'n a speckled dog."
"The young man is very rich, I hear."
"Richer'n fertilizer a foot thick."
"By the way, are you willing to sell me those saw logs Brown couldn't take off your hands?"
"Williner'n a girl to get spliced."
"When can I see them?"
"Quicker'n a lamb can shake his tail."

And the old man grabbed his hat and stick and led the way to the river, offering no remark, but answering all questions as usual.

Two Not Always Company.

People who are shut off from continual contact with their kind are apt to grow sullen. Army officers who have lived for long periods at one company post on the frontier and the wives of these army officers may know something about the difficulties of small groups of human beings living together and loving one another.

Keepers of lighthouses do not always get along together, and if there are two lighthouse keepers and two lighthouse keepers' wives the result is generally a monkey and a parrot time.

Light housekeeping in lighthouses by lighthouse keepers' wives often leads to heavy work with rolling pins.

Even husbands and wives have been known to quarrel on the honeymoon tour, not because they did not love one another, but because, being in foreign countries, they were cut off from their kind and were forced to rely entirely on one another's society. It is one of the weaknesses of human nature. Man is gregarious. When a few individuals are isolated, they nearly always quarrel.—Exchange.

Snow Worm in Kentucky.

Roe Havens the other morning brought to the Hazel Green Herald office an anglerworm that he found crawling upon the snow, a chunk of which he was on when viewed at this office. He was as lively as any worm we ever saw, and many theories have been advanced as reasons for his appearance on the snow.

SEARCH FOR ANDREE.

PROFESSOR NATHORST WILL LEAD A SWEDISH EXPEDITION.

It Is Being Fitted Out to Visit Franz-Josef Land and Other Places to Find Traces of the Explorer—Believed to Be Safe in Winter Quarters.

The search for Andree is about to begin. An expedition will leave Sweden during the month of May under the leadership of the Swedish scientist, Professor A. G. Nathorst. The expedition will strike out toward the north pole, but its purpose is not so much the discovery of the pole as to find some traces of Andree, the polar balloon explorer, who, scientists are now agreed, barring unforeseen accidents to the balloon, is likely to be in some part of Franz-Josef Land.

Professor Nathorst is not an enthusiast on the discovery of the north pole, claiming that its location would be of little or no scientific value, while a thorough exploration of the locality between Spitzbergen and Franz-Josef Land and the larger islands, as King Charles Land, New island and others, would be of immense value. Both Spitzbergen and Franz-Josef Land will be explored, and in the latter locality it is hoped that the exploration party will meet Andree or find some traces of him.

The advance of the expedition toward the north pole will depend on climatic conditions. The journey will be undertaken in a Norwegian whaling ship constructed on the same lines as Nansen's Fram, and everything that past polar experience suggested will be adopted to insure success. The money for the expedition has been contributed by wealthy Swedes, King Oscar heading the subscription with a liberal amount. The scientists who have volunteered their services and been accepted as members of the expedition are in the service of the Swedish government and have been granted leave of absence. The members are Professor A. G. Nathorst, chief of the expedition; Dr. Axel Ohlin, zoologist; Dr. Gunnar Anderson, botanist; Dr. A. Hanberg, hydrographer; Lieutenant O. Kallstrom, photographer and map constructor, and Dr. Ernst Levin, physician and surgeon. It is expected that two or more scientists will join the expedition before it leaves Tromso, its point of departure.

Professor Nathorst is a resolute and daring leader and one of the most prominent polar scientists in Europe. Only 47 years old, he has already successfully conducted several important scientific labors which have been the means of solving many important scientific problems. In 1870 and 1882 he was chief of the Swedish Spitzbergen expedition and in 1883 of the Greenland expedition, the latter in particular having important scientific results.

In reference to discovering Andree on Franz-Josef Land, Professor Nathorst has not expressed any opinion and has referred all inquiries to the belief expressed by M. Lachambre of Paris and the Austrian explorer Dr. von Payer. The Neue Freie Presse in Vienna published recently an interview with the Austrian explorer in which he says:

"No word ought to be expected from Andree before next summer. It will be Andree himself, not pigeons, that will bring the news of his expedition. It is safe to state that the pigeons, unused to polar conditions, have refused to leave the balloon. An attempt may have been made, but they have returned to the balloon, and if this has happened during the summer months in the arctic regions, how can it be expected that they would leave the balloon during the winter months? During extreme cold weather the pigeons soon become exhausted. They are blinded by the ice and snow and would be constantly in danger from voracious birds. The long winter night has already commenced in the polar regions, and a sled journey under these conditions is not to be thought of. Andree and his companions have no doubt made themselves as comfortable for the long winter night as they could have done under the circumstances. Before this spring Andree cannot possibly commence his return journey, and then, with a temperature of 10 to 50 degrees (Celsius) below zero, his pigeons, if then alive, would be absolutely useless."

M. Lachambre of Paris in an interview said:

"The balloon could float for 15 days. During the height of the polar summer a journey on the ice with the small boat attached to the balloon would have been difficult, and the explorers have probably decided to remain in winter quarters until late in the fall. They may have concluded to continue the journey by way of Siberia, and then we will hear from them some time in February. But if they are remaining in winter quarters for scientific observations, which is the most probable, no tidings of them will be received until next winter."—Chicago Tribune.

FIVE BOYS WERE DRUNK

They Staggered From an Alley Yesterday Afternoon.

OTHERS SEEN IN THE STREETS

More than the usual number of Sunday drunks were seen in the streets, but one case in particular attracted much attention.

The individuals were five young boys, not one of whom seemed to have gained his majority. They formed a disgusting scene as they staggered out of an alley, and stood in the street undecided as to the direction they would take. Then they went on their way, all drunk.

There were a number of other drunks in the streets. Two men, one of them with gray hair, walked with difficulty down Washington street, and another experienced some trouble in climbing the Broadway hill early in the afternoon. Late in the evening a man was going west in Sixth street accompanied by a woman. He was explaining to her that he was perfectly sober.

On the River.

The river is falling slowly, and the marks at the wharf at noon registered 11.6 feet.

The Fred McGowan, Raymond Horner and Fred Wilson passed down Saturday afternoon with good tows of coal. The Tornado got up with a lot of empties.

The Keystone State, Kanawha and Ben Hur passed up yesterday afternoon. All of them had good passenger and freight trips.

The Ben Hur and Keystone State will be down this evening.

THE TROUBLESOME DUST.

The bane of the ideal housekeeper's life is dust, and yet this seemingly insignificant, exasperating dust has been a study of scientists for a century. "When a beam of sunlight enters a darkened room, it can be seen along its whole course," says one writer. "The light is reflected to every side and made to reach the eye by the dust in the air of the room. We do not see the sunbeam, but the dust which is illumined by it. As unimportant as this curious stuff seems, it plays a conspicuous part in nature. It is what makes the sky appear blue, and when we look at the sky we see the dust illumined by the sun. Light goes through all the gases—the dust catches it, reflects it in every direction, and so causes the whole atmosphere to appear clear, in the same way that it makes the sunbeam visible in the dark room.

"Without this strange, wonderful dust there would be no blue sky. It would be as dark or darker than on moonless nights. The glowing disk of the sun would stand immediately against the black background, thus producing blinding light where the sun's rays fall and deep black shadows where they do not. It is to dust that we owe the moderately tempered daylight adapted to our eyes, and it is dust that contributes to the beauty of the scenery. The finest dust gives the blue tone to the sky, while the coarser kind produces an almost black appearance.

"The clouds consist of dust and vapor. If there be only a little dust, all the vapor is precipitated upon it, and so loads the clouds with water that they sink in heavy drops to the ground. Without dust the vapor would penetrate houses, making everything mold with damp. We should feel upon going out that our clothes were becoming saturated and umbrellas would be a useless protection. It is hard, indeed, to conceive how different everything would be if there were no dust. This trivial common stuff has its considerable part in the processes of nature, and there is much of the wonderful and mysterious concealed in its filmy particles."—Detroit Free Press.

FOR ABUSING A HORSE

Mr. Miller Was Arrested by Agent Lloyd.

Mrs. Watkins, Who Came Here From Kentucky to Buy Ware, Went to the Mayor With a Long Complaint When She Heard of Miller's Trouble.

A man, who gave the name of Miller, was arrested by Humane Agent Lloyd, charged with abusing a horse. He declared he was not guilty, and Mayor Gilbert decided to give him a hearing this evening. Miller resides in the West End, and the officers of the society have known of his case for several days. He declares it is a mistake.

Mrs. Watkins, who came here with her husband on a trading boat from Kentucky some time ago, called on Mayor Gilbert soon after she learned of the arrest of Miller and had a long story to tell. She said she had a large dog when she came here, but Miller, who lives near where the boat is tied, succeeded in getting the dog in his house, and has had the dog there for six weeks. Mrs. Miller was also in police court, endeavoring to have her husband released, and said the dog had followed her home. Mayor Gilbert advised Mrs. Miller to release the dog.

DIED IN PITTSBURG.

Charles Cramer Passed Peacefully Away Yesterday.

Charles Cramer died at his home in Pittsburgh yesterday after an illness extending over several months. Paralysis was the cause.

Mr. Cramer was closely related to William Polk, of the Thompson House, and was employed by him for some time as night clerk. Last June he became ill, and went to Pittsburgh for treatment. While here he made many friends who will hear with deepest regret of his death.

About two weeks ago at one of the revival services Miss Peas professed conversion. Since that time her shop mates say she was one of the happiest girls in their company. Interment was made in Spring Grove cemetery.

The municipal campaign is on in earnest this morning, and all the candidates are hustling.

The inspection of Company E will take place this evening at the armory.

YOUNG MAN GONE.

Lorin A. Thurston Says In Civilization Hawaii Is the Child of America.

"Annexation of Outlying Territory to the United States" was the subject of discussion at the dinner of the Congregational club in New York the other night. Lorin A. Thurston of Hawaii spoke on "Hawaiian Annexation."

"In civilization Hawaii is the child of America," he said. "Hawaii is America's only colony. The stars and stripes float over more ships in Hawaiian harbors than any other flag."

"We urge on business men of America that America needs Hawaii more than Hawaii needs the United States."

"This country has already committed itself to the policy of keeping other countries out of Hawaii. If the islands are worth keeping others out of, they are worth possessing."

"The modern warship cannot steam across the Pacific from Asia without recoaling. By keeping other nations out of Hawaii the United States will protect itself from attack from that side."

Mr. Thurston said the charge that the annexation of Hawaii would make it necessary for the United States to assume $4,000,000 of indebtedness was balanced by the fact that Hawaii would turn over $9,000,000 in property to the United States.

"It has been said that millions of Hawaiians are not up to American standards," said he. "I say that millions of Americans are not up to the Hawaiian standard."

Rear Admiral Belknap spoke of the naval advantages of the islands to the United States. He said the harbor of Honolulu could be made well nigh impregnable by fortifications at a cost of $5,000,000.—New York Herald.

SPANIARD CREATED UPROAR.

Shouted "Viva Espana!" at a Show and Was Grabbed by Several Men.

While a song about the Maine disaster was being sung at Primrose & West's minstrel show at the Grand Opera House, in New York, the other night a dark, Spanish looking man arose from the audience and shouted "Viva Espana!" There was an instant uproar, and several men made grabs for the foreigner until the ushers interfered and took the man out of the building. Two or three men followed out on to the sidewalk, where a policeman held them in check until the Spaniard could board a horse car.

At the Harlem Music hall recently a woman down on the bills as Annie Hart created a diversion by singing a parody on "The Banks of the Wabash," with words referring to the Spanish situation, and following it with "The Star Spangled Banner." Some one in the audience yelled, "On to Havana," and everybody got on to his feet and cheered. Quiet was restored at the request of the singer, who continued with less inspiring music.—New York Sun.

A Misunderstood Composer.

An enterprising young Portuguese composer, who dreams of founding a new school of music of the future, has introduced a new instrument into the orchestra. It is a pistol. In a "realistic instrumento descriptivo" opera from his pen, played at one of the minor theaters of Lisbon, the audience after hearing strange sounds from the ordinary instruments were startled by the loud report of a pistol going off. There was a rush to the doors, as it was thought some anarchist was present. In vain did the young composer come forward to explain that he had devised a new artistic method of musical description. A number of persons were trampled upon in the rush and more or less injured.—London Daily News.

WHAT?

A FUNNY INCIDENT.

Colonel Horn's Letter to General Logan Explaining an Attack on Grant—Shannon, His Associate, Was an Ambitious Fried Chicken Eater.

Mrs. John A. Logan once gave to a newspaper reporter in this city a letter from a southern editor that created a lot of talk. It was immediately after the death of General Grant. The reporter had gone to the Logan residence to interview the general about some matter then before congress. The general was in bed, and the reporter was shown to his room. In the course of the evening Mrs. Logan entered the bedroom and took part in the conversation. In her hand she held a letter, the contents of which her husband knew about. She wanted to give it to the reporter, but the general objected. But as the newspaper man started to leave Mrs. Logan slipped the envelope into his hand. The next morning nearly every newspaper in the country printed a copy of it. It was a rare and racy document.

Colonel Alexander G. Horn of Meridian, Miss., then the editor of The Daily Mercury, was its author. The letter was intended as an explanation of an editorial that had appeared a few weeks before in The Mercury. Colonel Horn and J. J. Shannon were associates in the publication of the aforesaid journal. On the morning following the death of the hero of Appomattox The Mercury contained one of the most cruel articles about General Grant ever printed by a press. It dared any true southerner to grieve or show signs of sorrow over his demise. It called upon the people of Dixie land to exult and rejoice at the death of the man who had slain their sons and burned their homes. The people of Meridian were astounded. They went to the editor, Colonel Horn, and asked him, in the name of peace, to write another article withdrawing it. He was obdurate and instead of doing as his neighbors wished dictated another one equally as fierce as the first.

At that moment the name of Colonel Shannon was before the senate awaiting confirmation as postmaster at Meridian. An enemy of his, knowing the love that General Logan had for General Grant, inclosed copies of the paper to him, expecting that Logan would oppose Shannon's nomination. Shannon and Horn had a dispute over the editorial, and their relations became so strained that a street duel was only averted by the interference of mutual friends. Colonel Horn's letter to General Logan was to the effect that Colonel Shannon was innocent of the article and had known nothing about it until he saw it in the paper. I cannot quote the letter with literal exactness, but a part of it was as follows:

"No; Shannon had nothing to do with it. In the first place he hasn't sense enough to conceive such a sentiment as was expressed in the editorial and if he had he would be too cowardly to write it. He is my partner, I am sorry to say, but by making him postmaster you will afford me the opportunity of getting rid of him."

"And why not take him, John? There is a mighty narrow strip between the radical republicanism that you represent and the Cleveland Mugwump that Shannon tries to represent. He is not a Democrat, never was and never will be. I predict that you will soon have him over on your side, and God speed the day! We Democrats down here don't want him."

"I am growing old, but I am still in possession of my mental faculties, and I hope to live many years longer to tell the truth from day to day about the despised Yankees and their politics. I am seriously afflicted with hemiplegia, else I would have mauled him—I out of Shannon long ago."

"Logan, you ought to remember me as one of the fellows that figured somewhat conspicuously in the Kemper county trials. I guess I can take the credit to myself of having had the Democrats who killed the Radicals there acquitted before the courts. I would like another job of the same kind."

"You and I ought to be friends. Opposites beget liking. You have been a broth of a boy in your party, and I have been a sheel of a fellow in mine."

General Logan replied good naturedly to this epistle, after which a friendly correspondence sprang up between the erratic genius at Meridian and the senator. Logan read the Shannon letter in the committee room of the senate, and then laughingly said that inasmuch as his friend Colonel Horn wanted Shannon confirmed he didn't see how he could oppose him. Colonel Horn, unreconstructed, has long since passed into silence, and a few years later Colonel Shannon was buried at his old home in Paulding, Miss., a town once made famous by the publication of The Weekly Clarion, many years ago, of which paper he was one of the founders. During the Sullivan-Kilrain trial at Purvis some years ago I sat at the breakfast table with Sullivan and Colonel Shannon. Sullivan ate three fried chickens, Shannon four. Charlie Rich, the great sportsman, got the two to enter a fried chicken eating match. Some one asked Sullivan how many he thought he could get away with, and Sullivan said about eight.

"Eight!" spoke up Shannon. "Well, you will have to do better than that. You may be the champion prizefighter, but you will have to whet up that appetite of yours before you can take away the chicken eating championship."

The chickens were bought and cleaned and were ready for the iron when the colonel was taken violently ill. Before he could recover Sullivan was out of the state.—James S. Evans in Chicago Times Herald.

An eminent physician and Fellow of the Royal Society, seeing over the door of a paltry alehouse, the Crown and Thistle, by Malcolm MacTavish, M. D., F. R. S., walked in and severely rebuked the landlord for this presumptuous insult to science. Boniface, with proper respect, but with a firmness that showed he had been a soldier, assured the doctor that he meant no insult to science. "What right, then," asked he, "have you to put up those letters after your name?"

"I have," answered the landlord, "as good a right to these as your honor, as drum major of the Royal Scots fusiliers."—Sanitarium.

FOR ABUSING A HORSE

Mr. Miller Was Arrested by Agent Lloyd.

Mrs. Watkins, Who Came Here From Kentucky to Buy Ware, Went to the Mayor With a Long Complaint When She Heard of Miller's Trouble.

A man, who gave the name of Miller, was arrested by Humane Agent Lloyd, charged with abusing a horse. He declared he was not guilty, and Mayor Gilbert decided to give him a hearing this evening. Miller resides in the West End, and the officers of the society have known of his case for several days. He declares it is a mistake.

Mrs. Watkins, who came here with her husband on a trading boat from Kentucky some time ago, called on Mayor Gilbert soon after she learned of the arrest of Miller and had a long story to tell. She said she had a large dog when she came here, but Miller, who lives near where the boat is tied, succeeded in getting the dog in his house, and has had the dog there for six weeks. Mrs. Miller was also in police court, endeavoring to have her husband released, and said the dog had followed her home. Mayor Gilbert advised Mrs. Miller to release the dog.

Lorin A. Thurston Says In Civilization Hawaii Is the Child of America.

"Annexation of Outlying Territory to the United States" was the subject of discussion at the dinner of the Congregational club in New York the other night. Lorin A. Thurston of Hawaii spoke on "Hawaiian Annexation."

"In civilization Hawaii is the child of America," he said. "Hawaii is America's only colony. The stars and stripes float over more ships in Hawaiian harbors than any other flag."

"We urge on business men of America that America needs Hawaii more than Hawaii needs the United States."

"This country has already committed itself to the policy of keeping other countries out of Hawaii. If the islands are worth keeping others out of, they are worth possessing."

"The modern warship cannot steam across the Pacific from Asia without re-

coaling. By keeping other nations out of Hawaii the United States will protect itself from attack from that side."

Mr. Thurston said the charge that the annexation of Hawaii would make it necessary for the United States to assume $4,000,000 of indebtedness was balanced by the fact that Hawaii would turn over $9,000,000 in property to the United States.

"It has been said that millions of Hawaiians are not up to American standards," said he. "I say that millions of Americans are not up to the Hawaiian standard."

Rear Admiral Belknap spoke of the naval advantages of the islands to the United States. He said the harbor of Honolulu could be made well nigh impregnable by fortifications at a cost of $5,000,000.—New York Herald.

SPANIARD CREATED UPROAR.

Shouted "Viva Espana!" at a Show and Was Grabbed at by Several Men.

While a song about the Maine disaster was being sung at Primrose & West's minstrel show at the Grand Opera House, in New York, the other night a dark, Spanish looking man arose from the audience and shouted "Viva Espana!" There was an instant uproar, and several men made grabs for the foreigner until the ushers interfered and took the man out of the building. Two or three men followed out on to the sidewalk, where a policeman held them in check until the Spaniard could board a horse car.

At the Harlem Music hall recently a woman down on the bills as Annie Hart created a diversion by singing a parody on "The Banks of the Wabash," with words referring to the Spanish situation, and following it with "The Star Spangled Banner." Some one in the audience yelled, "On to Havana," and everybody got on to his feet and cheered. Quiet was restored at the request of the singer, who continued with less inspiring music.—New York Sun.

A Misunderstood Composer.

An enterprising young Portuguese composer, who dreams of founding a new school of music of the future, has introduced a new instrument into the orchestra. It is a pistol. In a "realistic instrumento descriptivo" opera from his pen, played at one of the minor theaters of Lisbon, the audience after hearing strange sounds from the ordinary instruments were startled by the loud report of a pistol going off. There was a rush to the doors, as it was thought some anarchist was present. In vain did the young composer come forward to explain that he had devised a new artistic method of musical description. A number of persons were trampled upon in the rush and more or less injured.—London Daily News.

Mrs. John A. Logan once gave to a newspaper reporter in this city a letter from a southern editor that created a lot of talk. It was immediately after the death of General Grant. The reporter had gone to the Logan residence to interview the general about some matter then before congress. The general was in bed, and the reporter was shown to his room. In the course of the evening Mrs. Logan entered the bedroom and took part in the conversation. In her hand she held a letter, the contents of which her husband knew about. She wanted to give it to the reporter, but the general objected. But as the newspaper man started to leave Mrs. Logan slipped the envelope into his hand. The next morning nearly every newspaper in the country printed a copy of it. It was a rare and racy document.

Colonel Alexander G. Horn of Meridian, Miss., then the editor of The Daily Mercury, was its author. The letter was intended as an explanation of an editorial that had appeared a few weeks before in The Mercury. Colonel Horn and J. J. Shannon were associates in the publication of the aforesaid journal. On the morning following the death of the hero of Appomattox The Mercury contained one of the most cruel articles about General Grant ever printed by a press. It dared any true southerner to grieve or show signs of sorrow over his demise. It called upon the people of Dixie land to exult and rejoice at the death of the man who had slain their sons and burned their homes. The people of Meridian were astounded. They went to the editor, Colonel Horn, and asked him, in the name of peace, to write another article withdrawing it. He was obdurate and instead of doing as his neighbors wished dictated another one equally as fierce as the first.

At that moment the name of Colonel Shannon was before the senate awaiting confirmation as postmaster at Meridian. An enemy of his, knowing the love that General Logan had for General Grant, inclosed copies of the paper to him, expecting that Logan would oppose Shannon's nomination. Shannon and Horn had a dispute over the editorial, and their relations became so strained that a street duel was only averted by the interference of mutual friends. Colonel Horn's letter to General Logan was to the effect that Colonel Shannon was innocent of the article and had known nothing about it until he saw it in the paper. I cannot quote the letter with literal exactness, but a part of it was as follows:

"No; Shannon had nothing to do with it. In the first place he hasn't sense enough to conceive such a sentiment as was expressed in the editorial and if he had he would be too cowardly to write it. He is my partner, I am sorry to say, but by making him postmaster you will afford me the opportunity of getting rid of him."

"And why not take him, John? There is a mighty narrow strip between the radical republicanism that you represent and the Cleveland Mugwump that Shannon tries to represent. He is not a Democrat, never was and never will be. I predict that you will soon have him over on your side, and God speed the day! We Democrats down here don't want him."

"I am growing old, but I am still in possession of my mental faculties, and I hope to live many years longer to tell the truth from day to day about the despised Yankees and their politics. I am seriously afflicted with hemiplegia, else I would have mauled him—out of Shannon long ago."

"Logan, you ought to remember me as one of the fellows that figured somewhat conspicuously in the Kemper county trials. I guess I can take the credit to myself of having had the Democrats who killed the Radicals there acquitted before the courts. I would like another job of the same kind."

"You and I ought to be friends. Opposites beget liking. You have been a broth of a boy in your party, and I have been a school of a fellow in mine."

General Logan replied good naturedly to this epistle, after which a friendly correspondence sprang up between the erratic genius at Meridian and the senator. Logan read the Shannon letter in the committee room of the senate, and then laughingly said that inasmuch as his friend Colonel Horn wanted Shannon confirmed he didn't see how he could oppose him. Colonel Horn, unreconstructed, has long since passed into silence, and a few years later Colonel Shannon was buried at his old home in Paulding, Miss., a town once made famous by the publication of The Weekly Clarion, many years ago, of which paper he was one of the founders. During the Sullivan-Kilrain trial at Purvis some years ago I sat at the breakfast table with Sullivan and Colonel Shannon. Sullivan ate three fried chickens, Shannon four. Charlie Rich, the great sportsman, got the two to enter a fried chicken eating match. Some one asked Sullivan how many he thought he could get away with, and Sullivan said about eight.

"Eight!" spoke up Shannon. "Well, you will have to do better than that. You may be the champion prizefighter, but you will have to whet up that appetite of yours before you can take away the chicken eating championship."

M. D., F. R. S.

An eminent physician and Fellow of the Royal Society, seeing over the door of a paltry alehouse, the Crown and Thistle, by Malcolm MacTavish, M. D., F. R. S., walked in and severely rebuked the landlord for this presumptuous insult to science. Boniface, with proper respect, but with a firmness that showed he had been a soldier, assured the doctor that he meant no insult to science. "What right, then," asked he, "have you to put up those letters after your name?"

"I have," answered the landlord, "as good a right to these as your honor, as drum major of the Royal Scots fusiliers."—Sanitarium.
